

DURAVISION™ HALF DOME MIRROR COMPARISON

DuraVision™ Acrylic Half Domes have a scientifically engineered curvature. The entire range of acrylic DuraVision™ half dome mirrors feature this important design element to ensure the best quality image and wide angle view possible and therefore provide the safest, most reliable half dome mirror on the market.

DuraVision™ Half Domes

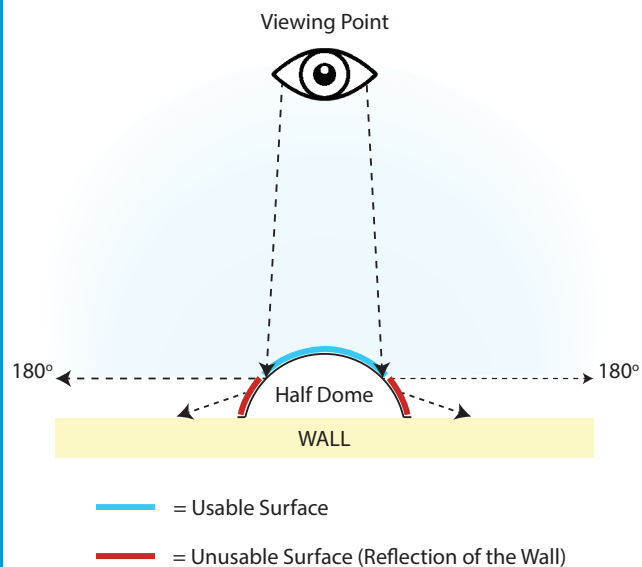

DuraVision™ Half Dome mirrors have a specifically designed curvature. This scientifically engineered curvature gives the "maximum usable reflective surface for a wide-angle view" and more importantly, a "larger image size". The photo below shows the image of the corridor fills almost the entire mirror face.

All DuraVision™ mirrors are manufactured with high quality materials and stringent quality control manufacturing processes. As a result, DuraVision™ half dome mirrors carry a 5 year warranty against faulty workmanship and materials.

Poor Quality Half Domes

Other poorly made Half Dome mirrors are inferior because their curvature is too great. Their mirrors reflect "50% of unusable wall and ceiling area" resulting in the images being up to "50% smaller". The photo below shows the deep curve of these mirrors reflect a small image of the room and a large part of the wall.
